David is a teacher assistant and he spends 10-15 minutes of each class tracking the location of students to reduce the spread of covid-19, and this bothers him because it affects class time.

One of his student suggested an online seating chart app to make it easier for him to track covid cases in the class.

Each student started downloading the app and locating their seating in the classroom.

David explains the features of this app to students and how it can be used.

David and students feel safer returning to the university than before because this app reduce the chances of getting COVID-19.

David feels happy because he will not waste any more time tracking Covid-19.
